NOTES:

MEMBERSHIP POLICY REGARDING EQUIPMENT RENTALS

4. Facility and equipment rental (general)

Only Producing Members in Good Standing (as well as artists specifically invited by the centre to use production facilities and equipment as part of programming projects, residencies, production programs, etc.) may book, rent, and use facilities or take equipment off-premises. Producing Members whose membership has lapsed must renew their membership and pay the appropriate fee before any booking or rental can be made.

Members are responsible for ensuring that they have appropriate training and experience to operate equipment and facilities they wish to use, and for obtaining advance approval by staff of their qualifications to use equipment and facilities they propose to rent. Staff may, at their discretion, decline to book or rent equipment and facilities and equipment to Members until they are able to satisfactorily demonstrate their ability to operate equipment, and/or have taken appropriate workshop training offered by the centre.

Equipment and facilities must be booked a minimum of one working day in advance. Staff will determine which equipment and facilities are available for booking or rental. Staff may, at their discretion, decline to book or rent equipment to Producing Members who have accumulated an excessive unpaid account balance on previous rental charges. Members agree to abide by the determination by staff as to the availability or possibility of booking or renting equipment and facilities.

By making a booking, Members assume responsibility for the rental charges associated with it. Members may cancel a booking one working day in advance and incur no charges, but Members who cancel less than one working day in advance will incur a charge of 50% of the rental fee. The full rental fee will be charged to Members who do not cancel or show up for the booking.

By renting equipment or facilities, Members assume full responsibility for payment of the fee associated with the period for which the equipment has been signed out or the facility use starts. The rental period begins when the rental starts, and concludes when the equipment has been returned or the facility vacated.

When renting equipment or facilities, Members must complete the appropriate rental form in full, supplying their current address and contact information, and initialling and signing the form. By doing so, Members take full responsibility for the rented equipment or facilities, and agree to abide by the terms of the PAVED Arts Rental Contract. Staff endeavour to maintain equipment in good condition at all times, but Members assume final responsibility for verifying that the equipment and facilities they sign a Rental Contract for are in good condition and functioning to their satisfaction.

By signing for equipment or facility rentals, Members assume full responsibility for returning equipment or vacating facilities by the agreed-upon time. If equipment is returned late or facilities vacated late, the renting Member will be charged the rental rate for the additional time.

If a Member who has made a legitimate advance booking for equipment or facilities is denied access because of another Member's late return of equipment, or late vacating of facilities, the Member responsible for the lateness will be charged an additional penalty equal to the rental rate for the equipment or facilities that were booked by Member who is denied access, until the equipment is returned or the facility vacated. This penalty is charged on top of the normal rental rate for any additional time used.

Staff endeavour to coordinate booking to maximize access for all Members, but PAVED Arts's liability to Members who are denied access to equipment or facilities because of another Member's lateness will be limited to free rental credits equivalent to the period during which equipment or facilities were not available.

Rentals are non-transferable: equipment must be signed for and picked up by Member undertaking the production, and returned by them. In the case of in-house facility rentals, the Member must be present during any work session, and assumes full responsibility for the actions and conduct of any visitors, assistants and technicians who are involved in their work.

Members assume a duty of care for all rented equipment or facilities during the period of their rental. Equipment must be returned in the condition that it was signed out in, and facilities vacated clean and ready for use. Members assume responsibility for any equipment they rent, and, if required, for paying the cost of repair or replacement of any equipment or facilities they have rented or used that is lost, damaged, stolen or not returned. Members agree to promptly report to staff any loss or damage of equipment or facilities, and to cooperate in any process of investigation into the incident.

Members assume responsibility for making good any loss or damage to equipment they have rented and may be required either to pay the full cost of its repair or replacement, or to pay an insurance deductible if PAVED Arts's insurance policy coverage is deemed applicable.

In the context of individual equipment and facility rentals that are not part of a specific production program, staff can provide general orientation to and explanation of equipment features and operation, but cannot provide comprehensive instruction, training or production services without prior arrangements, which will be at the discretion of staff and may be subject to an hourly charge for technical services.

6. Off-premises mobile equipment rental guidelines

Staff will determine which equipment may be taken off premises. Equipment may not be taken outside the Saskatoon area without advance approval by staff 5 working days in advance. Members may not undertake repairs of equipment in the field or modify equipment in any way without the express consent of staff. Staff will set detailed guidelines about equipment operation and care.
